V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-6	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1-6	YES
	Claims		NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-6	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations

1. Reference is made to the following document:

D1: DE-A-43 19 868.

2. In none of the documents relating to the prior art is disclosure made of a heatable calender bowl with all the features in independent Claim 1.

Therefore the device as described in Claim 1 is novel (PCT Article 33(2)).

3. Nowhere in the known prior art (i.e. neither in D1, which constitutes the closest prior art and is cited in the description, nor in the search report citation US-5 404 936) does the person skilled in the art find any inducement to develop a calender bowl as disclosed in D1, according to the characterising part of Claim 1. D1, which represents the closest prior art to the subject matter of this application, describes only those features set out in the preamble to Claim 1 of the present application.

None of the documents cited contains anything that might suggest any kind of adjustability - by rotation or axial displacement for example - of the insulating sleeves which are mounted near the ends of the peripheral bores.

The provision of adjusting devices associated to the flange journals for controlled rotation or axial displacement of the insulating brushes is based on an original idea which does not constitute a simple, logical extension of the prior art.

Therefore the device as disclosed in Claim 1 appears to satisfy the requirements of PCT Article 33(3), and since it is functional and can be manufactured it can also be considered industrially applicable (PCT Article 33(4)).

4. The dependent Claims 2 to 6 represent useful modifications of the device as per Claim 1 and thus also satisfy the requirements of PCT Article 33(2), 33(3) and 33(4).

VII. Certain defects in the international application

The following defects in the form or contents of the international application have been noted:

1. The features set out in the preamble to Claim 1 are not given reference signs placed in brackets (PCT Rule 6.2(b)).
2. Contrary to the requirements of PCT Rule 5.1(a)(ii), the description does not cite D1 or indicate the relevant prior art disclosed therein.
